COMSAT junks Andover antenna

COMSAT last Thursday dismantled the famous Andover-1 horn antenna, which had become a tourist attraction in Andover since it was put into service in 1964.

The antenna was used to carry overseas satellite messages until recently, when it was placed in standby service. COMSAT officials said it costs $165,000 a year to maintain the antenna, which, they said, is too obsolete to justify rebuilding.

Additionally, with the de-regulation of the communications industry, COMSAT no longer has a monopoly on trans-Atlantic messages. A company spokesman told The Citizen: "The FCC (Federal Communications Commission) has mandated anyone with the money and the will to set up an earth station without going through COMSAT."

"COMSAT wouldn't have taken any of the actions (of closing the station) if we hadn't been pushed by the FCC, which is ordering others into the business."

The dismantling of the venerable antenna will cost a total of $250,000, COMSAT officials said, and it will be sold as scrap. The site itself will be closed by Jan. 1, 1987, they said.

An official said there would be "some staged phasedown" before January 1st (1987).

The company announced last week it would sell its interest in three other earth stations to AT&T for $55 million. But AT&T was not interested in purchasing the Andover site or another site in Brewster, Wash., a spokesman said, because of the age of these facilities.

The spokesman said there were no plans yet for what to do about the employees at the Andover site or the real estate and buildings. "We will come to some conclusion (about the property) based on good business sense and the needs of the community."

Greenwood, Woodstock stump dump open for use

Work has been underway on the Greenwood/Woodstock transfer station and the Woodstock dump during the past week. At the Greenwood site a clam-shell shovel has gathered the debris together and covered it temporarily until 35 percent fine can be found to complete the cover. The Woodstock dump has been bulldozed and covered temporarily until suitable cover material can be secured.

The Greenwood stump dump is open for the use of citizens of both towns. Burning at the site awaits the receipt of a permit from the Maine Forest Service. Norman Millett is the attendant and requests that anyone desiring to utilize the stump dump contact him for an appointment. He may be reached either at his home, 527-2254, or at his part-time summer residence, 875-5775.

The highway crew has been recently working on the Concord Pond road and are now patching and shimming the road in South Woodstock in preparation for surfacing which is expected to begin June 17. The selectmen request the truck owners refrain from using the affected road in South Woodstock June 17-20. A concerned citizen has reported to the Woodstock selectmen that the "yield" sign on Rte. 232 has disappeared. This creates a potentially dangerous situation as traffic on Rte. 232 frequently moves at a fast pace.

The board of selectmen was pleased to hear from the Septic Site Authority that one more home on Rumford Avenue had been approved for a septic system. Troy Jordan will build the system. As most of the work on Rumford Avenue had already been completed the selectmen were fearful that another site might not be approved.

Chamber announces annual service awards

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce has announced the 1985 recipients of its community service awards. These presentations have been made annually since 1969.

Receiving the Henry H. Hastings Award, denoting a high degree of civic-mindedness, was former Bethel postmaster Earlon (Bud) Paine.

The business award was presented to Robert Coolidge, proprietor of Bob's Corner Store in Locke Mills.

An award for community service was received by Mrs. Annie Crockett of Bryant Pond.

Mrs. Floribel Haines of East Bethel was the recipient of the award as an outstanding senior citizen.

Telstar seniors Alan Verrill and Theresa Wilbur were recognized with student citizenship awards and were presented U.S. savings bonds. Both recipients are from Woodstock. Alan is the son of Leon and Marguerite Verrill and Theresa's parents are Harold and Sheryl Wilbur.

MSAD #44

Directors' meeting

The board of directors of SAD #44 met in regular session in the library of Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

Immediately preceding the meeting newly-elected Cheryl Eliot and re-elected Kay Chadbourne, of Bethel, were administered their oaths of office by Robin Gundersen, notary public, as members of the board for three years. Mrs. Chadbourne is starting her second term as a member of the board.

The board approved, for the 1985-86 school year, the placement of the classroom for a fourth kindergarten division in the basement at Bethel Bissbee School. This will be located in the area now utilized for a teachers' room and a classroom for Chapter 1 and special education. It is expected that the room will continue to be used at least part of the time for the latter purposes when the half-day kindergarten class is not in session.

The directors approved a summer music program as proposed by Harry Davis, director of bands at Telstar. The approval will also extend to any similar program that might be implemented by Liz Mikenas, elementary music teacher, if she so desires. The proposal as promulgated by Mr. Davis will utilize the facilities at the Telstar complex and be coordinated with the summer working schedule of the custodial staff Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings extending into the afternoon ending at approximately five o'clock. As part of this program Mr. Davis has made arrangements for rental musical instruments to be available "rent free" for those who wish to try one for the entire summer. A weekly charge will be made

West Paris trash bill comes to $650 for May

Even with having to haul its trash to Norridgewock instead of letting it accumulate in (and overflow) the town dump, the Town of West Paris spent only $650 last month taking care of solid waste.

The $650 monthly bill was broken down as follows: $270 for the trash hauler—D & E Sanitation, of Bethel, and $380 for the landfill operator in Norridgewock.

Selectman Hugo Heikkinen said these costs were below projections and should be easily handled within the budget allocated by town meeting.

However, there is still the matter of covering over the old dump, and Mr.

Heikkinen is still not sure if those costs will come within budget.

Last Thursday, at the selectmen's meeting, engineer Fergus Lea, of the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments told the board he would work with a local surveyor to design a plan for closing the dump. The plan, expected to cost $400-$600, will have to be presented to the state Department of Environmental Protection for approval before it can be implemented.

cie Witter, Traci Higgins, Sarah Chapman and Deb Bodwell. The team came home with seven medals. Placing in the state meet were:

•Bernie Haines—fifth in the long jump.

•David Kersey—sixth in the pole vault.

•Sarah Chapman—fourth in the 100 meter hurdles. (Sarah ran a 17.5 in the semi-final, a personal best for her.)

The 4x100 meter relay team of Deb Bodwell, Sarah Chapman, Mary Taylor and Amie Otero, took a fifth place and also set a new school record with a time of 53.8.

Many thanks to all the other team members, parents and friends who went to the state meet to offer their enthusiasm and support.

It is a time of commencement

Here it is already. After four years in Telstar, it's a time of good-byes and hellos—goodbye to teachers, staff and friends, and hello to new people, new places, new opportunities. In a word: Commencement. It's a pretty good time to be graduating into the real world. Institutions of higher education are looking for new students to fill the gap left by the exit of the bulk of the baby-boomers; the military is looking for a few good men (and women); and job opportunities are bright. That's probably the best news—as reported elsewhere in this week's paper—both local and state authorities report increasing job opportunities, at increasing rates of pay.

It is not the best of times, however. Life was simpler before the age of MAD (mutually assured destruction). Back 40 years ago, when the world was at war, one knew that people were getting killed in battle. And when the world was at peace, one knew that the killing had stopped.

Now there is no clear distinction between war and peace. The killing goes on, just at varying paces. And over us all hangs the anxiety that at any moment the world's entire civilization could vanish.

It is a time to make plans for the future, as young people have always done, but also a time to speak out to ensure that there will be a future. Telstar Principal Ted Davis has great faith in this year's crop of graduates. "They're a class that, when they make a commitment, they keep that commitment," says Mr. Davis.

It is hoped that they will commit themselves to making sure that, while working towards their own goals, they also commit themselves to the goal of preserving our beautiful planet for those yet unborn.

A note from the publisher

As I write this, I am worrying about what our paper will look like when it comes off the press Wednesday morning. Will it look too dark with our new typeface, or will it look just right? Certainly, it will look darker, which is what we wanted. When we converted to this new phototypesetting system, in place of the old Linotype machine, we were hoping to be able to match the look of the Linotype-produced paper, while improving the photos, ads and general readability.

Unfortunately, because of delays in receiving typefaces from the manufacturer of our new system, we were forced to use one of typefaces we had on hand instead of the one we had ordered specifically for the news columns of the paper.

Though not meant for newspapers, the typeface we chose for our first few months under the new system had larger-than-average characters and was light and attractive, though emphasis must be placed on the word "light." This made it difficult for some people to read.

Even my mother (my parents receive the paper weekly in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.) told me recently, "I'm so glad you're getting the darker typeface."

In reality, it's not darker. The amount of ink in what makes for light and dark. But it appears darker. This is because the lines that make up each letter are a heavier weight than the lines of the typeface we have been using.

If you were among those who felt the type was too light previously, John Brown and I hope you now find the paper easier to read. If you were among those who liked the light typeface, we hope you will come to like this new typeface just as well. Either way, we hope you'll let us know how you like it.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Over 50 attended the June meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held last Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Featured speaker was Roland DeCoteau of Paris Hill, long interested in classical music, who described the career of William Rogers Chapman (1855-1935) in music and told something about the famous musicians who worked with him throughout his many years of conducting and working with musical organizations. Chapman was not born in Bethel but in Hanover, Mass.; he was, however, from an old Bethel family. He spent most of his boyhood here and always called Bethel "home." He was educated in New York City and studied music in Europe before becoming organist in the Church of Covenant in New York. He taught vocal music in New York City schools a few years and was founder of three vocal organizations: Mursurgia for men, Rubenstein for women and Metropolitan for mixed voices.

It was for the Maine Music Festivals begun in 1897 that he was perhaps best known. In the 1897 Festival Chapman gives credit to Bethel's Marian True Gehring for encouraging him to go ahead with this great musical adventure that was to bring him national attention. For the next 30 years Chapman brought some of the world's greatest musicians to perform for Maine audiences primarily in Bangor and Portland. Among those who participated in one or more of Chapman's Maine Music Festivals were Lillian Nordica, Ernestine Schumann-Heink and Geraldine Farrar. Frequently these musical artists would visit Chapman in Bethel and occasionally local residents were treated to hearing a performance in Odeon Hall. The Festival ended in 1926 due to Chapman's declining health and the growing popularity of radio.

Chapman received a honorary doctorate of music from the University of Maine, the first such honor given in the field of music. He married Emma L. Faulkner and they had one daughter, Nellie.

During the business portion of the meeting President Alden T. Kennett announced that Mrs. Theresa Judson had resigned as secretary and clerk of the trustees on May 17 in order to join her husband in his new job as town manager in Lincoln. The trustees met on May 30 and under the terms of the constitution elected Charles Raymond to serve in her place until the next annual meeting in September. He is a history teacher at Telstar Regional High School, and his wife is head librarian at the Bethel Library and a descendant of Bethel's longtime dentist Dr. Francis Tuell. President Kennett thanked everyone who were responsible for the success of the annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show and the Dr. Moses Mason Birthday Party. He announced that the trustees had also elected Albert Skillings to honorary membership in the Society noting his long service to the organization and presenting him with a certificate of honorary membership. The president also presented a life membership to Gertrude Bartlett which was accepted on her behalf by her son Lawrence. Mrs. Bartlett is the Society's oldest member at age 97. The artifact of the month was announced as a framed photograph of the Rubenstein Club at the Waldorf Astoria in 1929 showing William Rogers Chapman in the back row, the gift of Edith Eaton Eddy, former secretary and trustee of the Society. The next meeting was announced for July 4 when the Society will hold its annual picnic on the back lawn of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 6:30 p.m. Following a short business meeting beginning at 7:30, Society Director Stanley Howe will speak on the Greenback Party in Western Maine during the 1870s and 1880s. Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

Last night the valley was quiet, with the smell of coolness in the air. Twigs snapped outside. A bird chirped. Then deep silence sheathed the valley. The stillness lasted until four-thirty in the morning, when the discordant sound of awakening birds came like a mis-set alarm clock. Then quietness resumed until light aroused the inhabitants of the surroundings, including us.

Sometime during the night I saw the full moon, while fireflies snapped their lamps on and off against the woods out back. It seemed a bit early in the season to see them. In daylight they are small, drab, and unnoticed. But on warm nights, they come alive, glowing with a special kind of fantasy. They are like a host of winking stars, which come to spangle the darkness. Just another night secret.

We are usually early risers. It is the dawn-world that is lovely: sunrise full of robin songs, trees spangled with new green leaves, mists from the pond, and then sounds of the world just awakening. It is the sight of plants bowing under dew and the blue-silver leaves of columbines with pretty colors above; it may be the whir of wings, as a duck takes flight leaving a gleaming light of soft ripples on the pond.

A June morning! How beautiful!
"I know that you are here, June,
I know that you are here—
The fair month, the merry month
The laughter of the year!"
Douglass Malloch

Today, June 4, I went fishing and had a visit with a mouse which I'll write about next time.

This second day of June has been gorgeous but very busy. The wind blew from the south striking the mosquitoes away. I worked outside for most of the afternoon; transplanting, moving lawns, and fighting weeds. Clyde was landscaping.

During the week we had several callers; Edward and Ruby Wildberg of Canton, Mass., came on the traditional Memorial Day and we were very pleased to see them. Several years ago they came to look up the correspondent for the "Citizen" from Greenwood City. They found her after the second try. Now they visit us in early summer and again in the fall. I have made several friends in this way.

It was a pleasant surprise, when I answered the phone one evening to hear the voice of a pupil I had in school many years ago. He was calling from Rockland. He said, "My TV told about a one room school so of course I thought of you, so went to the phone to call you." He talked about "my happy days in Greenwood City" as well as many other things. Thank you again, W.W.

David and Sally Holt of Dexter and little Mary came to visit us. Mary stayed with her grandparents and Aunt Ann on Saturday while her parents attended a wedding reception of friends in Andover. They also visited their Uncle Bernard Morgan before returning home on Sunday. Bernard is now at Ledgeview.

John and Dot Betts and their grandchildren went for a cruise off Portsmouth, N.H., to do some whale watching on June 1. They reported a nice trip and one whale spout.

On June 1 at the Hayes Homestead, Doris had for dinner her sons, Glenn, Ardell and Duane; her grandsons, Scot and Wallace and their wives, Tena and Nancy. June 2, Doris met her sisters, Kathy Cole is soon starting her new job at the Maine Publicity Bureau's Information Booth, located at the Evans Notch Lodge and Motel.

Kenny Cole has employment at the Sunday River construction site.

Friends Mary Tyler and her mother, Mary Cole, invited me to go to a "rookery" recently. Following is an account of the day:

Approaching Deer Hill Road in North Chatham we were privileged to see a spectacular sight in a lush green field—a white tailed deer! At first she stood back to us at the meadow's edge, and even as Mary loaded her camera, she turned broadside, paused and took off the length of the field, her white tail a-flying. We suspect a young offspring lurked in the undergrowth and she was trying to lead us "away."

In a matter of moments we came to the Rookery. At the far end high atop the dead yellow birches, now standing in three to four feet of bog water, we counted 20 to 40 nests of the Blue Heron. Using binoculars we observed the parents performing their feeding rituals, and "changing of the guard," accompanied by much squawking. We looked for an access road to approach nearer to the scene, finding one, in a marshy area we came across a fresh rack of a bull moose, which measured six inches long and five inches across, and could see in the mud where we had startled him. Further on down the road we encountered the tracks of a cow and its youngster.

On this trip we saw and heard 27 species of birds, including the rare Hooded Mersanger, the Great Crested Flycatcher and the Killdeer.

Stopping at Basin Pond for a picnic, we continued homeward, having enjoyed a spectacular day with Mother Nature.

Towering above me, he stood
And as I fell, these words
"Get up, and try again"
And reaching up, I grasped his hand
So supportive, so strong,

We have reports that our friendly tame deer is traveling over the town seeing the sights. She has been seen at Ledgeview Nursing Home and even at Bryant Pond. Please don't do anything to harm her. If she doesn't run away when she sees you, she is the tame one. She will not hurt you. Just let her go on her own merry way and you do the same. Protect our animals.

My Father, my friend.
He waited for me by the window
I could see him in the shadows
"Where have you been
Your mother's worried sick"
"But I loved him, Dad"

"Don't fret," he said,
"Love will come again"

And reaching out, I grasped his hand
So supportive, so strong,
My Father, my friend!

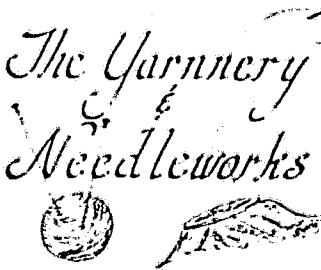

Hair brushed neatly,
And showing streaks of grey at the temples
He pulled at his starched white collar,
Fidgeted with the tie he so disliked wearing, and,
With tender hands he straightened my veil

Taking me by the arm, and beaming, he said
"Baby, you're beautiful!"

As heads turned to look
My knees grew weak, my vision blurred
But he held me up,
So supportive, so strong
My Father, my friend.

At the nursery window, he was radiantly smiling
"Look's a bit like me, don't you think?
Look at those shoulders
Bet he'll be a football player someday—"

Years passed too quickly onward
With shoulders stooped and calloused hands
He stood waiting for me at the window,
Tired and forlorn,
And reaching down, I grasped his hand
"You're beautiful, Dad," I said,
My vision blurred,
Thankful that I could be there
Supportive and strong—for—
My Father—my friend.

A rainy Thursday and we need it badly. Just wish that it might keep on raining for some time as the gardens are dry, as well as the fact that the grass isn't growing as well as it should to get a good hay yield for the farmers. Of course, I like the sunshine with dry air as that is best for this fibrositis, but will put up with it if we can get the rain we need.

Nothing too exciting going on here at my daughter's unless you want to call getting up at night to rock the baby exciting. She is doing much better now than at the beginning, but has so much gas for a little one that it keeps her awake and everyone else, too.

Peggy was home from Massachusetts last weekend and she and Russell came to see the chiropractor on Monday and called at the house. Nonie put the baby in Russell's arms and he put her to sleep. Nonie told him he could come down any night and put her to sleep, but he thought it might be a bit of a nuisance in the middle of the night to drive to Lewiston to put the baby to sleep. He was probably right, too.

Have been having trouble with my car and finally found a place to get it fixed where they didn't take advantage of me just because I was a woman. Too many places do that if a woman goes in alone to get work done on a car. Anyway, the car sounds better the last few days and hope it continues to for a long time.

We have gone for a couple of walks lately to help Nonie get her strength back and to get the girls out into the sunshine. Courtney likes to help push the baby and it is nice to see her so interested in her little sister. She would like to be able to do more, but at two years old, one can't do too much. She makes sure that the baby gets all the kisses it ought to and shows how much she loves her. Just hope she will when little sister gets so she can get into her things, but knowing children,

I expect she will want to get her out of her things as all children do.

Just called Russell and he tells me that Kaye and Otto Blosssey from Florida arrived at her sister's on Tuesday. Her sister is Peggy's other daughter, Myrna White, of Auburn. I believe the Blossseys are to stay for two weeks to visit and hope I get to see them while they are here. It has been some time since I have seen them and when I worked in Florida, I went there to visit often with Peggy.

Russell also told me that Grace Yates has changed jobs and is now working in the shoe shop as she did so many years before going out on the road with her husband, Lawrence. She had been helping do laundry at the nursing home in South Paris, but the doctor told her the job was too much for her back, and that she should get something else to do, so am glad she had the opportunity to go to work in the shop where she knows so many jobs. Her granddaughter, Chris, is working there, also.

Russell said he went stepping out on Tuesday night to West Sumner to Pomona. Wish I had been there to go with him as we haven't gotten to go very much. I hope to be home soon and then perhaps I will be able to go to some of the meetings. Just have to give Nonie time to get the tissues healed and be able to lift more without doing any harm. I am enjoying my granddaughters while I am here and hope they get up to see Nana often after I go home. They are so precious to me and I have waited some time to have grandchildren. I wish I saw my step-grandson more, but as I don't, I hope I do get to see the girls.

Guess I will sign off or you will think I don't have anything else on my mind than my grandchildren. Got to get busy and write a little poetry. I want to enter the Grange contest for poetry and have to have it in soon. The next meeting at Bear River Grange will be on June 22, I believe, and it will be election of officers.

Northwest Bethel

By CLARICE GIBSON

Thursday, June 6 and a rainy day. Frankie came over at breakfast time and stayed until middle of the afternoon. We played some cribbage. This reminds me of when we lived in The Olde Rowley Inn at North Waterford. Gram Hersey lived in one rent (at that time it was made into five rents) and we lived right across the hall in another rent. At times when I could get time after taking care of the four children, would put the boys down for a nap or out in the fenced-in yard out back and Gram and I would play cribbage. It was four years we lived there before Gram passed on. Then we moved into Gram's rent. Our living room was what is now the dining room, our kitchen was beyond that and our bedroom was what is now the waiting room. The older boys had one bedroom upstairs and the waiting room was big enough for a crib on each side of the bed. How time flies. We moved out 24 years ago this month.

Frank went moose hunting years ago in Newfoundland and put the moose horns over the barn door. A robin has made herself a nest in the horns and sits there in her home contentedly watching the goings-on around her. The eyes come down and under the eyes is a drainpipe so she is very dry as well as high enough up to be out of reach of animals. Papa Robin can be heard calling from the river maples.

The lilacs were beautiful this week and attracted many monarch butterflies. The yellow and orange wings against the lavender made a spectacular sight. The flowers also attracted ruby throated hummingbirds and hummingbird wasps. How magnificent!

June 5, Frank and Sylvia had a doe come right outside their kitchen window. June first a buck ran into our car and it will be awhile before I can go with it. Elaine Packard was kind enough to come June 4 and take me to Bible Study and Gloria Snyder came the fifth and went into Fryeburg shopping and ate out. Frankie was here Tuesday and said while I was gone, son and wife, Jim and Sue stopped in. They had come from Freeport on their motorcycle and were going up to New Hampshire.

George and Betty Gilbert went June 2 to her sister and husband's, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith's, Albany. The Smiths had a combination graduation party for their daughter, Liza, graduating from Fryeburg Academy, and the Smith's granddaughter, Jill Johnson, graduating from Oxford Hills High School. Jill is the daughter of Harland and Elaine Smith Johnson. A barbecue was enjoyed by 59 relatives.

Let and Ruth Butters went to Gorham, N.H., for shopping and lunch June 5. Judy, Sarah, Jessie and Vicky Coolidge and Alberta Angevine went to the open house at Ethel Bisbee School. Jessica Coolidge is a student there.

Sue Angevine gave me the following address for Manuel and Sheri Angevine Cordova: 303 West Moulton, Apt. 3, Decatur, Ala. 35601.

I think our only graduates this year are Kristy Angevine and Richard Saunders. Another milestone in their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Varney, Winthrop, called on Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham Sunday.

Evelyn Hilborn, Frances Farnum of Bryant Pond, and Louvie Coffin of West Paris just returned from a seven day trip to the Pennsylvania Amish country and the mountains of New York. They visited the Hershey Chocolate Centre, the Gettysburg battlefields, the Eisenhower farm and took extensive tours through the farmlands of Pennsylvania. They returned through the Catskill Mountains of New York and the Green Mountains of Vermont. Except for one thunderstorm, the weather was perfect. While traveling, they counted eight deer killed by motorists. A great time has had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Glines and two children, Randolph, N.H., visited his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Glines this last week.

Joyce Stearns has been under the weather with an ear infection. David and Nancy Annis went shopping Saturday and ate out.

Mrs. Dennis Andre had six friends help celebrate little Dennis' ninth birthday last week. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andre, East Bridgewater, Mass., and niece, Beth Andre visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Andre over the weekend and Danielle Andre went back with Gram and Gramp.

Karen Bean and son, Matthew, went to Rumford Point to a farm team game. Frank went to the Lions' meeting and supper June 4 and also joined.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coolidge had a birthday supper June 5. Sarah was nine and Jessica was seven. Alberta Angevine

No Regrets

Isn't it good at the end of the day To look up to God and to be able to say

"Dear Lord, I helped someone today." But isn't it sad if instead you must say,

"Dear Lord, I hurt someone today. I drove the nails a little bit deeper And forgot that I am my brother's keeper."

Isn't it better when the day is done To know that you have injured no one

From the time of your waking, Till you lie down to sleep, Remember the promise that we should keep,

To love one another as He loves us too, And you'll never regret any good that you do.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher took his mother back to the nursing home Saturday and Joe went to the Aleppo Shriners meeting and strawberry festival. Eveline watched the outdoor activities and listened to the ball game, also had a good book. The little house on the knoll looked good to Eveline and the hot spots. She took vinegar with her in a small jar. It's a great life if one doesn't weaken.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reidy, Tyngsboro, Mass., spent the long weekend at their trailer, returning home late Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Varney, Winthrop, called on the Vatchers Sunday morning on their way to Bethel and they gave Eveline a pink African violet.

Pvt. Scott Isley of North Carolina underwent his third operation on his injured leg on June 6. It needed to be straightened, etc.

AIC Robert Isley and Joe Vatcher went to Fryeburg Monday, fishing and brought home a moose weighing 800 pounds and some white perch, bass and hornpout. As they were coming east on the Norway Lake road at 12:30, the moose came up from the lake, hit the snow plow frame on front of the truck and up onto the hood of the truck and Joe thought it was coming through the windshield, so he ducked his head. The new truck would have been demolished as there isn't any plow frame on front. It made a long night as it was four a.m. when Joe got to bed. He roused Harlan Abbott to help him skin out the moose and hang it in the garage until arrangements to cool it and cut it up were made. They gave the fish to Harlan.

William Labbe who is stationed in Germany has been at Rhoda Vatcher's several days. He returned to Germany Friday. Rhoda spent the weekend in Saugus, Mass.

Community Club meeting was held at the hall June 5. The same officers were elected to serve another year. There'll be no supper in June, but will have one July 20, with strawberry shortcake galore. Too many weddings and school events in June. Don't forget the date.

AIC Robert Isley and his wife returned to the air force base in New York on Friday. Bobby is in a welding class and Nick Norrel has taught him a lot and now Bobby is boss with the following men under him: Don Packer, Brian Brown, Mark Deinhart, Travis Mumbulo, Fred Yozzo. AIC Kevin Billings and wife came with Bobby, but will fly to North Dakota, where he has been transferred. He will be a weatherman. They visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Billings, Trap Corner, and her parents, the Corriveau family of Gilead.

Arnold Coffin was at his trailer two days and had a doctor's appointment at Norway.

Joe Kallinowski hosted a birthday party for Thelma Card Sunday at "Big Rock." Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Records, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence and Mrs. Helen Emery. The usual bountiful dinner. It was so nice up there on the hill.

Joe Vatcher and Robert Isley went to Kezar Pond again Thursday evening and brought home lots of white perch and some hornpout. No moose, for one is enough.

Frances Thurston Doucette and daughter Elisabeth are permanently moving to Portland. Our best wishes go with them.

On June 3, Eric Gunther treated his parents, Sandra and Howard Gunther, to dinner in Shelburne to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Also present to celebrate were Scott and Debbie Gunther.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bane have returned home from wintering in Pittsfield. Welcome home!

On The Road Again... Jaime's birthday weekend certainly started on a very unexpected note. My dad blew the engine on his car in Kennebunk! So after a hurried dinner and making a deposit at the bank (of two children, Jaime and Alex Gillies) I headed out to pick him up. I couldn't resist "Hey, mister, need a lift?" when I saw Pop sitting on the steps, looking for all the world like a lost orphan. A comedy of errors followed when we tried to find the garage (actually a residence in disguise) where my dad's car was resting in peace. Pop had only been there once, and in the daylight, but we managed to find it and unload all the goodies. We got to laughing when the mechanic told me how my dad had said I'd never get all this stuff in my car. "My daughter has a small car," he told the man. Well, we got it all in and then some. We could have taken on a parcel of gnomes... they didn't want to leave Kennebunk. That was Friday's adventure... on Sunday night we drove Pop back.

Don't tell anyone... after my trip to Kennebunk I'm going to enter the Indianapolis 500. On the way home from Kennebunk, just past Honey Bailey's, I saw four legs in the middle of the road. Remembering the recent moose encounters, I slammed on the brakes. Then I realized they were not moose legs, but deer and they belonged to a beautiful, brown-eyed doe. We startled her. She looked at us for several long moments and then ran into the woods. My dad and I love looking at deer so it was a nice ending to a CRAZY day.

The next day, June 1, we had a combination cookout and birthday party. Between downpours, that is. Attending were "Mimi" Caron, "Pop" Young, Ruth Lord, Albert Cotton, Cheryl Lord, Peg and Karen Wheeler and Alex Gillies, who was our special "stay-over" guest for the weekend. Jaime blew out the candles on her Care Bear cake and sampled a little, too. Then it was off to napland while the grown-ups got to hear the disaster area! It was fun and Jaime got some nice presents.

Speaking of presents... I got a really nice T-shirt in the mail recently. Bet you can't guess whose picture is on the front... Did you see the news item on television recently about the pilots barnstorming over South Portland? Jaime and I saw the planes over the Maine Mall on Tuesday of last week. It was quite a sight. It's so nice to hear the birds chirping again after all the rain. It's almost like a breath of spring all over again. I wish everyone could see what I see when I look out my window. There's a big old pine tree beside my "office" window that completely blocks my view of the house next door (sorry, Cheryl!) and all I can see are the inner branches. That's where all my little bird friends sit and chat together. It's very relaxing to sit here at my typewriter, surrounded by pictures of my friends and loved ones, and watch (and hear) the birds. It's while I sit at this window that my musiest times come, as they do now.

"People must be a big disappointment to Him sometimes. He created something capable of loving and caring and it turns into something that hates for no reason. People who hate never really feel any peace inside. It's a sickness worse than any plague this world has ever seen. The sad part of it is that the cure for it is inside everyone of us: Love." I wish I could take credit for writing that, but I can't. It was written by one of my childhood heroes... Michael Landon for Highway to Heaven. Peace...

RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE

MONDAY, JUNE 17

Please join us for the Red Cross Blood Drive, Monday, June 17, 2-7 p.m., West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel. For information call 824-2008, 824-3326, or 865-2226. Won't you drop by and make your contribution of community service, you'll receive refreshments and a carnation from the Unicorn Flower Shop.

MSAD #44 DIRECTORS MEET

for these lessons (two one-hour group lessons per week) by Mr. Davis. Private lessons of one-half hour duration will also be offered. Also proposed by Mr. Davis was a band rehearsal each Tuesday evening in the band room for the benefit of the middle school and high school band advanced players, and the community band all combined. This is intended to maintain interest during the summer season. Because of the summer offering's projected value to the SAD #44 music program and its non-conflict with school-year scheduling of the facilities the board waived the customary fees for building use.

The superintendent was authorized to post vacancies in four summer-only positions: three custodial and one maintenance.

The board acknowledged the receipt of the elementary self-evaluations and expressed its appreciation for the effort of the self-study teams in the completion of the elementary reports.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Wendy Driscoll as a kindergarten teacher at Ethel Bisbee School. She expects to be teaching in the SAD #43 system in the fall. Miss Driscoll has been a teacher at Ethel Bisbee School since September of 1982.

Mrs. Sue Wight of Newry was approved as a substitute teacher for the remainder of the current school year.

With the exception of Al Barth, Bethel, all members of the board of directors were present Monday evening.

The SAD #44 directors will next meet in regular session at 7:30 Monday evening, June 24, in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

OXFORD POMONA #2
Oxford Pomona met with Pleasant Pond, West Sumner, Tuesday evening, June 4, with about 50 in attendance. The feature of the evening was election of officers for the coming year. Those chosen were: Master, Hazel Conant; Overseer, Francis Conant; Lecturer, Anna Henderson; Steward, Russell Yates; Assistant Steward, Raymond Tripp Jr.; L.A.S., Connie Tripp; Chaplain, Marion Bennett; Treasurer, Josephine Tripp; Secretary, Gail Butterfield; Gatekeeper, Lewis Woodworth; Ceres, Marguerite Marcotte; Pomona, Frances Allen; Flora, Abbie Buswell; Executive Committee, Harold Canwell.

A resolution to prevent the selling of liquor on election day was approved. This will be sent to the State Grange.

The chairman of the CWA, Kitty Davis, reported on sewing projects. Those to be given awards were Frances Allen, Ernestine Riley, Peggy Goddard, Becky Goddard. The deadline for the CWA books is Sept. 1. She thanked all for participation in CWA work. Kitty solicited cakes for a cake walk for the next meeting which will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 1, in Bryant Pond.

Marion Bennett presented the memorial program in honor of two deceased members.

The next meeting will be agriculture night in charge of the committee, Carl Brooks, Richard Felt, and Lewis Bisbee.

Job picture rosy for '85 grads

With the Maine economy outpacing the national economy, despite slowdowns in the shoe industry, the job picture for this year's graduates looks bright, according to Telstar Guidance Counselor Dan Hart.

Of the 17 (of 75) graduating seniors not going on for further schooling or training, 10 already have full-time jobs lined up, he says.

While the job market for new grads has been relatively good the past few years, Mr. Hart says this year there are a wider choice of jobs available. "Maybe kids are finding more choices this year. They don't have to take (just) something—they have a choice."

Mr. Hart notes that employers have been calling his office at a brisk rate: two or three calls each month throughout the year looking for part-time help, and the number has increased to one to two per week looking for summer help.

"I would say, for the most part, the senior class is in real good shape (for summer jobs)," says Mr. Hart.

The state Department of Labor reports similar findings at the state level. The department's Division of Economic Analysis & Research, in its most recent report, states:

"A total of 29,000 more people were employed in Maine during 1984 than in 1983. This represents the largest increase in annual average resident employment since 1942."

"The year 1984...was the fourth consecutive year in which Maine's annual average unemployment rate fell below the national average. Maine's 1984 annual average unemployment rate was 6.1 percent, compared with a national civilian rate of 7.5 percent."

"Between 1983 and 1984, Maine's civilian labor force and resident employment both grew at faster rates than the nation's. Maine's civilian labor force grew by 2.8 percent, from an annual average of 537,000 in 1983 to 552,000 in 1984. Meanwhile, the nation's labor force only grew by 1.8 percent...Resident employment in Maine increased from an annual average of 489,000 in 1983 to 518,000 in 1984, for an over-the-year growth of 5.9 percent. This also outpaced the national rate of increase in employment, which only grew by 4.1 percent over the same time period.

"Unemployment in Maine fell by 14,000, from an annual average of 48,000 in 1983 to 34,000 in 1984. The statewide annual average unemployment rate dropped 2.9 percentage points to 6.1 percent in 1984, while the national rate fell by 2.1 percentage points to 7.5 percent."

"The strength and continued growth of the Maine economy was evidenced by lower unemployment rates in every month in 1984, when compared with corresponding months in 1983. The 1984 statewide annual average unemployment rate of 6.1 percent was the lowest annual average rate since 1973, when the rate was 5.8 percent. The September 1984 rate of 4.8 percent was the lowest monthly unemployment rate recorded in Maine since September 1973."

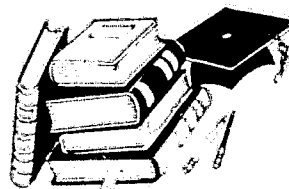

"The above (statistics show) a continuation of trends in Maine's labor force starting with 1980. The labor force, which equals the total number of residents employed and unemployed, has grown since 1980 in Maine by 8.9 percent, compared with 6.2 percent for the nation. As for resident employment, Maine's rate of growth has nearly doubled the nation's—10.7 percent versus 5.8 percent." continued on Page Nine

Gauthier, Long, York and Hart are April's students-of-the-month

The Telstar Guidance Office announced last week the following students as the students-of-the-month for April.

Denise Gauthier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gauthier, of Newry, was selected as April's freshman-of-the-month. She was nominated by her World Studies 1 instructor for "superior achievement, perceptive questions and thorough grasp of difficult material" in the units of Renaissance and Oriental Studies, which they were covering.

Sophomore-of-the-month is Loretta Long, the daughter of Danny Long and Brenda Long, of Bethel. Loretta was nominated for a great improvement in and dedication to her work in Biology. Since the beginning of the year she has raised her grade in this class substantially.

Penny York, the daughter of Carol Hathaway, of Bryant Pond, and Irving York, of Bethel, has been selected as junior-of-the-month for April. Penny has overcome difficulties that she has had in the past in math classes and has achieved higher grades in her Algebra II class this year. Her instructor notes she has a consistently positive attitude in this class and always is prepared for and contributes to the class.

Roy Hart, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hart, of Bethel, is April's senior-of-the-month. He was nominated for his work in the Resource Room this year. He has shown "extraordinary self-direction and motivation" in Pre-Algebra and Social Studies, achieving an A average in both subjects.

Receiving special recognition for April were:

Seniors: Jonathan Head, World War II; Brenda Bolio, College Prep Civil War; Leigh Whitman, Social Studies Aide; Jon Akers, Don Barker, Jodey Kimball, Ken Whitney, Keith Wight, Linda Lowe, Alan Verrill, Mike McGuire—all College Prep Chem Study.

Juniors: Emily Gammon, Creative Writing; Marsha Moxcey, Chem Study; Darcie Witter, Kim Monzo, Sarah Buckman, David Denison, Jim Fiske, Tanya Foster—all College Prep Chem Study; Sarah Buckman, College Prep World War II.

Sophomores: Mike Newell, Vocational Prep Civil War; Melissa Pilgrim, Vocational Prep 1920s and 1930s; David Kersey, Elementary Functions.

Freshmen: Michelle Crockett, Matt Waisanen, Debbi Bodwell—all Vocational Prep English.

TRACI HIGGINS AND LINDA JAMES were two of the fleet-footed runners on Telstar's relay team.

IT'S IN THE MITT: Rebel catcher Shawn Smith snares a foul tip. The Telstar baseball team finished in second place in the conference, with a 6-3 record.

The statewide unemployment statistics are just that: a statewide average. Broken down by regions, unemployment varied from a low of 2.8 percent in the Kittery-York area to a high of 11 percent in the Belfast and Caribou-Presque Isle areas. Oxford County's rate has been around 7-8 percent.

As for wages, average hourly earnings in the Lewiston-Auburn area increased from $6.16 in 1983 to $6.58 in 1984—an increase of 6.8 percent, compared to the rise of 4.3 percent in the U.S. Consumer Price Index for the same period.

In terms of job opportunities, the growing employment sectors over the past few years have been in non-manufacturing trades, particularly the wholesale and retail trade and the service industry. In the former, the number of jobs rose from 90,500 in 1982 to 102,100 in 1984. In the latter, the number of people employed rose from 81,500 in 1982 to 90,500 in 1984.

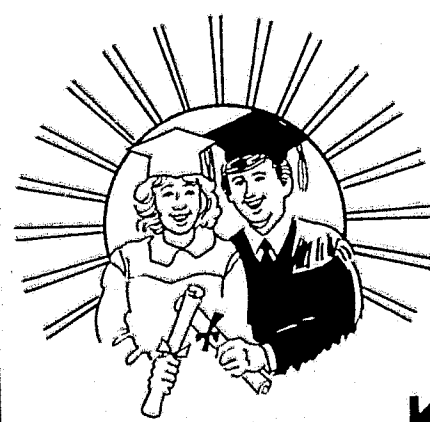

Employment in lumber, wood products and paper industries remained more or less constant, while employment in the shoe industry and in food processing dropped during the period.

A PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who made me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideal. You who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Persons must pray the prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After 3rd day wish may be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as this favor is granted. Thank you for petition granted.

Churchill's sermon topic was "Life's Most Perplexing Problem." June 9 was Baccalaureate Sunday for graduates. Greeters were Kris Percival and Dwayne Jodrey.

Sunday, June 2, officials of the Oxford Union Association of the Maine United Church of Christ participated in a service to install Rev. E. Marjorie Churchill as pastor of the First Congregational Church. The welcome and call to worship were given by Deacons Merton Perkins and William Crocker. The Litany of support and caring was read by church clerk Jane Rich and a bouquet of lily of the valley, given by Violet Swain was presented to Mrs. Churchill as a symbol of the care and support of the congregation for the pastor. Officials of the Oxford Union Association participating were Rev. Brendon Bass, Rev. Jean Bass, Ron Ashworth, Rev. Doug Trotter, Steve Wight, Rev. Nancy Taylor and Rev. Beyer.

On June 6 another of Andover's historical landmarks was demolished with the breaking down of the "beehive" owned by Comsat. It will seem strange when entering Andover not to look to the right and see the bubble among the trees. But I guess it's progress marching on.

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

The Greenwood Fire Department will hold a training session Tuesday, June 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the fire station.

There will be a potluck supper and meeting of the Locke Mills Union Church trustees and pastoral search committee at the parsonage June 12 at 6:30 p.m. Fathers' Day will be celebrated June 16 at the Locke Mills Union Church.

Everett Cross has been moved to Ledgeview nursing home at West Paris. Mr. and Mrs. John Mills and Ralph Mills visited Mr. and Mrs. John Smith in Dryden Saturday afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Chopping in Dixfield.

Our sincerest sympathy goes to the family of Maude Harrington who died unexpectedly this past week.

Charlotte Cole has been on vacation this past week and had a cousin, Mary McMillin, of South Rumford call on her recently.

Mrs. Vera Cross was in Norway Friday where an x-ray revealed she had broken her left kneecap in a fall she took on Thursday. She says it doesn't pain her much but she is sporting a soft leg cast to enable her to walk more easily.

The Greenwood Historical Society met June 5 with about 14 members present. It was decided to start the booster club this week. A card was signed to be given to Everett Cross. It was decided to hold another old-time dance soon. Donations received by the Historical Society included some old books given by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoy and an old vacuum cleaner donated by Leland and Sylvia Dunham. Phyllis Coolidge and Joan Kimball furnished the refreshments. It was decided not to hold a meeting in July due to so many other commitments. Mary Mills will furnish the refreshments in August.

The Fire Department Auxiliary will be holding a housewares party on Thursday, June 27, at 10 a.m. at the Fire Station as a fund raising project to benefit the Fire Relief Fund. Outside orders will also be taken. Please try to support this fund-raiser if at all possible. You will receive your much needed merchandise as usual but a percentage of all sales will be earned for the Fire Relief Fund.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN OF CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL made patriotic music last Friday while collecting funds for the Statue of Liberty restoration project.

THIRD GRADERS PRESENT

CONCERT AT CRESCENT PARK

On Friday, June 7, the third graders of Crescent Park School, under the direction of Liz Mikenas, presented an American song and recorder concert on the lawn in front of the flag pole. All of the elementary students and staff of Crescent Park and Ethel Bisbee Schools attended. Many parents and friends also turned out to enjoy the concert.

Franklin Grange will meet on June 17 for ladies' night. The men will serve refreshments.

Kathleen McAllister and Francis Farnum accompanied Christy Trask of Buckfield to the Grand Chapter session in Richmond, Va. Christy is Grand Representative to that state. They went down part of the way on Skyline Drive and were able to visit Williamsburg's old city before returning home.

Fourteen members of Jefferson Chapter #69 OES attended the Grand Chapter session in Bangor.

The third graders have had a year-long project in which they have made weekly collections on behalf of Lady Liberty. Lucas Gray, in Mrs. Barbara Ferguson's class, suggested that the third graders prepare a concert during which a collection could be made for the Lady Liberty Fund. Miss Shirley Merrill, who had organized the group project, thought this would be a good way to end the project for the year.

With help of Ms. Mikenas, Mark Judkins, Mrs. Ferguson, and all the third graders, the concert was a huge success. The children had collected $222.35 and during the concert $106.94 was collected, bringing the total to $329.29 for Lady Liberty. She was not the only benefactor; the third graders have had quite a few learning experiences throughout the project, as well as Lady Liberty math each Friday. They learned a lot of problem solving and other skills in the weekly lessons.

The third graders would like to thank all the good citizens who helped them reach their goal.

BUSINESSMAN OF THE YEAR: Bob Coolidge (left), of Bob's Corner Store, in Locke Mills, was chosen by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce as this year's recipient of the Business Award. The presentation was made by chamber director George Stevens, of Littlefield-Beaches, at the annual banquet last Wednesday at Sunday River Ski Resort's South Ridge Lodge.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here are some anecdotes by President Lincoln:

In regard to his ancestry, Abe said, "I don't know who my grandfather was. I am much more concerned to know what his grandson will be."

Of books he said, "Books serve to show a man that those original thoughts of his aren't very new after all."

Lincoln didn't like prepared sermons. He said he like to have the preacher act as if he was fighting a swarm of bees.

Of a dead general he once said, "If he'd known how big a funeral he would have had, he'd have died sooner."

After arguing for hours over the problem of how long a man's legs should be in proportion to the rest of his body, two men came to Lincoln one day and asked for a judgment. Lincoln responded as follows:

"After much thought and consideration, not to mention mental worry and anxiety, it is my opinion, all side issues being swept aside, that a man's lower limbs, in order to preserve harmony of proportion, should be at least long enough to reach from his body to the ground."

Asked by one client whether a certain neighbor was a man of means, Lincoln replied: "Well, I reckon he ought to be. He's about the meanest man in town."

When Mrs. Lincoln was first introduced to Lincoln, he said he wanted to dance with her in the worst way. She accepted.

"Well, Mary," a friend asked, "did he dance with you in the worst way?"

"Yes," Mary replied, "the very worst." He said of one speech he heard made during an election: "I never saw so many words compressed into so small an idea."

One woman once said to Lincoln: "I do believe you are the ugliest man I ever saw."

He replied: "Madame, you are probably right, but I can't help it." And she said, "No, you can't help it, but you might stay at home."

MARY FAY HOLT, is prepared to blow out the two candles on her birthday cake, as she sits on her mother's lap at her birthday party on May 26. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Holt of Dexter and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt, Greenwood City, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sambor of Sabbath Day Lake.
